

CAREER
c o n f i d e n t

Consultation Options & Services Fees

Interested in reading independent feedback from our former clients? Simply google "Career Confident" to read over 60 online client reviews.

At Career Confident, we prefer consultations in person; however, skype, email and telephone consulting is possible by arrangement. Please contact Helen Green to discuss your requirements. helen@careerconfident.com.au or 042 8888 292.

Whether for yourself or your child, engaging a careers consultant is an important decision. Our Director, Helen Green, is a qualified careers consultant and professional member of the Career Development Association of Australia. Helen is also a careers and education writer with many of her articles quoted or featured externally, including in;

- The Victorian Independent School's Association Parent's website
- News corporation print and online publications including the Herald Sun;
- The Australian Centre for Career Education;
- My Future website;
- Mamamag;
- Mums and Co.

See the blog page on the Career Confident website for more information. Helen has an informal counselling approach, so please feel free to contact Helen by phone or email for a preliminary chat.

A word on Vocational Testing

We use the Strong Interest Inventory® (CCP Asia Pacific Pty Ltd) as our primary vocational testing tool. See more below. Vocational testing can be a very beneficial self-exploration and career planning tool for many of our clients; however, it is not a compulsory part of our service. Every client's circumstances are different. The suitability of vocational testing can be explored during your first consultation, along with other strategies and tools we can use to help you.

How many consultations are needed?

We do not lock clients into having a specific number of sessions. It is your choice and we are very flexible, though in our experience, clients at various stages of their life/career benefit most from at least two-three career consultations with us.

We also offer affordable career counselling and support packages providing clients with additional support between appointments. If you are interested in a package, please contact us to discuss the best option for your situation.

CAREER
c o n f i d e n t

Career Counselling

Our prices are very competitive for qualified careers help. The fee is inclusive of our time in preparing for your consultation, reading any information supplied beforehand and typically a follow up email with handy links specific to your circumstances. In many circumstances, Career counselling can be claimed as a self-education expense for taxation purposes. See the Australian Taxation Office website. All prices listed below are subject to change.

Career Consultation $180 + GST

60 minutes (also includes resume and documentation review)

Career Consultation - Full time students and concession card holders $150 + GST

60 minutes

Career Consultation & Vocational testing $390 + GST

90 Minutes

The Strong Interest Inventory® administered by CCP Asia Pacific Pty Ltd, is regarded worldwide for its ability to link the interests and professional areas of a person to career, education and leisure options. It is user friendly and is not a test, rather an assessment of your interests (not your skills or aptitude). For over 85 years, it has been one of the most respected and widely used career planning tools in the world. We use it to complement our coaching, helping clients develop a clearer understanding of themselves in order to make informed career, lifestyle and vocational choices. The Strong Profile and Interpretative Report is a 19 page detailed report produced after you have taken an online questionnaire. The report is provided to you and discussed in detail during your consultation. There are other Strong reports available including the Strong Interest Inventory Profile with High School Profile Sample Report.

Career Counselling and Additional Support Packages*

Three and five session consultation packages (with or without vocational testing) are available over a specified time period. They include options of unlimited email and phone support between appointments.

Packages start at $600. +GST

Resume writing, cover letter preparation and related Services*

Pricing will vary according to your career stage and the work involved, though we are committed to providing affordable, tailored options to meet the diverse needs of our clients. To receive optimal results, we consider it important to meet clients we are preparing documentation for.